fourth Congress Feels the Thrill of Life.

IS SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE.

ings in the House of the Usual Nature and Nothing Out of the Ordinary in the Senate—Secretary of Treasury Submits Estimates of Appropriations for the Coming Year.

HINGTON, Dec. 3.—Both branches were called to order at noon, by Clerk Kerr and the senate President Stevenson.

Clerk Kerr had called the roll announced that 341 of the 356 members present and that no credentials received from the tenth of New York and the First of nominations for speaker were for Mr. Grosvenor (Rep., O.) in nomination Hon. Thomas B. of Maine. Mr. Sayers (Dem., presented the name of Hon. F. Crisp of Georgia.

The Republicans voted for Mr. With one exception all the Democrats for Mr. Crisp, and all the exception of Mr. Bell. The exception Crain, a Democrat from Texas, when his name was called, named his colleague, Mr. Calberson of the result of the vote was: Reed, 95; Calberson, 1.

Mr. Reed's election the other ten caucuses nominees for house were promptly elected.

Reed ascended the rostrum and swelled until it was deafening, this volume of sound came like the shot of "Reed! Reed!"

The Republicans cheered, them wildly, and the ladies in series waved handkerchiefs. For minute the demonstration continued, arrayed in a long frock and wearing a dark four-in-hand od calmly and serenely, with his clasped in characteristic fashion his back until the house was Senate.

HINGTON, Dec. 3.—Nothing happened in the senate yesterday that had been anticipated. The body was to order by Vice President Ste-the new senators and those been re-elected were sworn in. Committee was appointed to notify and the usual resolutions to the beginning of a session introduced. The senate took a an hour at 12:30 p. m. and at journeyed, after an absolutely unsession. The new senators and e-elected were sworn in groups. The first group were Messrs. Bacon, Berry and Butler. Then came Caffery, Carter, Chandler and

A Socialist Organization.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The meeting of District Assembly 49 of the Knights of Labor, which lasted from 8 p. m. until

2 a. m., resulted in the passage of resolutions advocating the formation of a new international organization to be composed of the socialistic element of the Knights of Labor throughout the country.

Forger Ward Arrested.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The state department has been informed that A. K. Ward, the Memphis forger and embezzler, was arrested on board a steamer at Livingston, Guatemala. He was taken in custody by the Memphis police officer who has been in pursuit and started immediately on the steamer for New Orleans.

New Counterfeit.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—A new counterfeiter $2 silver certificate has been discovered. It is of the series of 1891, check letter C, plate number 41. J. Trouant Tillman register, D. N. Morgan treasurer, portrait of Windom, small, scalloped seal. The note is much smaller in every way than the genuine.

Ahead of Schedule Time.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The first military bicycle expedition conducted exclusively by military riders was successfully concluded yesterday. There were 10 relays of two men each, and the last two riders dismounted at the bureau office at 4:45 a. m., 13 minutes ahead of their schedule time.

Vosburg Meads Guilty.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The trial of "Old Bill" Vosburg came to a sudden close when Vosburg, to the surprise of everybody, pleaded guilty to the second count in the indictment for swindling Farmer Cinful of Clarkson, Neb. He was remanded until Friday for sentence.

Revenge of a Dismissed Employee.

ROSE, Dec. 3.—Sugor Pera, a chief of department in the ministry of the interior, was stabbed in the back twice yesterday on the staircase of the ministry of the interior by a clerk who had recently been dismissed. The wounded man was taken to a hospital.

Housemaids' Strike Ended.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The colored of Providence have decided to create a national movement toward erection of a monument to John at Harper's Ferry.

The Crisis in Peru.

PERU, Dec. 3.—President Pier convoked congress in extra session account of the crisis caused by resignation of the cabinet.

THROWS UP THE SPONGE.
Senator Hill Quits the Platform and Returns to New York.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 3.—Senator David B. Hill's lecture tour in the northwest has proved a failure and came to an abrupt end when the senator closed his business arrangements with his manager, cancelled all further engagements and returned to New York, with the reason assigned for this action that he contracted a severe cold while at Duluth, making him adverse to further public speaking at present.

The fact is, however, that the audiences which gathered to listen to him at Milwaukee, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth were so meager that the financial returns were insufficient to pay expenses, and Senator Hill refused to talk for nothing. He was booked for 19 lectures altogether. The arrangements for the lecture tour were made by Minneapolis parties.

DURRANT CASE.

Affidavits Filed in Support of Motion for New Trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3.—The attorneys for Theodore Durrant yesterday presented additional affidavits upon which to base a motion for a new trial. Durrant's affidavits repeated the allegations of popular feeling against him which he thought prevented him from receiving a fair trial. The district attorney in reply filed affidavits averring the fairness of the trial.

Affidavits were also presented from each of the jurors in the case, stating that their verdict had been rendered strictly in accordance with the law and the evidence.

The motion for a new trial will be argued today.

ROBBED A JAIL.

Burglars Break Into a Sheriff's Office and Get Cash.

ST. CLAIRSBURG, Calif., Dec. 3.—A daring robbery was committed in Sonora, by which thieves enriched themselves to the extent of about $2,000. The sheriff of the county of Tuolumne is also the tax collector, and keeps the county cash in the county jail, in which he also resides. Burglars effected an entrance into the jail building, forcing the strong doors with crowbars, and made away with the cash.

No Comment Necessary.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—The newspapers of this city say that after the well known American, William L. Winans, had watched the ballet at the Alhambra for an hour every night last week, on Saturday he distributed $5,500 among the members of the ballet, the premiers receiving $200, the adult women $50 and the children $20 each.

Spanish Troops Win.

A dispatch from Santiago de Cuba announces that the columns of troops commanded by Brigadier Generals Munoz and Gascó, numbering 2,000 men of all arms, recently came unexpectedly upon an insurgent stronghold in the Sierra Maestra district of the province of Santiago de Cuba, and engaged there, bands commanded by Rabi and Victor Ramos. Thanks to the artillery fire of the Spanish troops, the latter captured the well defended positions of the insurgents together with their camp, hospital, a shoe factory and other like industries for the use of the insurrection forces. The insurgents lost 37 killed and had many wounded. Five soldiers were killed and one major, one lieutenant and 31 soldiers were wounded.

Prophetic Conference.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 3.—The prophetic conference of the pre-millennium theory of the second coming of Christ, will open this evening in the Fourth United Presbyterian church, Arch street and Montgomery avenue, Allegheny.

Schedule of Assignment.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The meeting of District Assembly 49 of the Knights of Labor, which lasted from 8 p. m. until

2 a. m., resulted in the passage of resolutions advocating the formation of a new international organization to be composed of the socialistic element of the Knights of Labor throughout the country.

ANOTHER LYNNING PROBABLE.

Entire Community in Pursuit of Two Negro Rapists.

NASHVILLE, Dec. 3.—Eight miles from Fayetteville, the scene of the double lynching last week, two negroes assaulted a white girl, aged 14, knocking her down with a stick and broke three of her ribs. They failed in their purpose. The entire community started in pursuit. A telephone message from Fayetteville at 8 o'clock last night says the entire town is aroused, that the pursuers with bloodhounds are tracking the negroes and if caught they will most certainly be lynched as the people are wrought up and frenzied.

USERS SECURE $500 IN CASH AND $5,000 IN NEGOTIABLE PAPER.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Dec. 3.—Mrs. James Williams purchased a live turkey from her grocer and while preparing it for oven found a diamond the size of a pea in its craw.

FEDDED TO BE HIS MAN.

MASPETH, L. I., Dec. 3.—In a 15-round contest last night Joe Walcott failed to knock out Kid Lavigne.

Duke and Duchess Still Moving.

MADRID, Dec. 3.—The Duke and Duchess of Marlborough have arrived here from Granada.

The Weather.

For Ohio and West Virginia—Very light snow, but generally fair during the day, cold, northwesterly winds.

BRIEF BUT NEWSY.

Clips From Blocks of News That Were Too Heavy to Handle.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Senator Franklin of West Virginia said concerning the organization of the senate: "We can not turn the senate over to the Republicans until they have the votes." Even with the two senators from Utah, they will not have a majority unless 100 votes of Nevada voters with them, which is expected. Until that time we will have to continue in control."

Dead in a Dive.

SITZKORN, S. D., Dec. 3.—E. A. Stargis, a prominent government contractor at Fort Meade, was found dead in the doorway of a dive. The inmates said he was thrown from the place drunk. The police declare he was given "knock out" drops, which are said to be fatal. A large sum of money was known to have been on his person when he was missing. Five persons have been arrested.

IS THERE A POWDER TRUST?

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The Dupont Powder company and the Maxim Torpedo and Powder company, were the bidders at the war department for supplying smokeless powder for the 3.2-inch field guns and the small rifle, and all of the bids were at $1 per pound.

A CUBAN TRAITOR.

Proposal to Surrender Made by Rego.

GENERAL CAMPOS IS CONFIDENT

That He Will Be Able to Re-establish Peace—Will Make a Desperate Struggle to Keep Maximo Gomez Out of the Province of Matanzas—Two Fighting in Which the Spaniards Claim Victory.

HAVANA, Dec. 3.—Since Nov. 8 it has been known that Rego had made a proposal of surrender which had been submitted to Captain General Campos through two intermediaries, who had accepted the offer. This information came from an employee in the foreign office with permission to wire the information as being already an accomplished fact. General Martinez Campos in reply to inquiries, telegraphs from Santa Clara, that he has more confidence than ever at this time that he will be able to re-establish peace.

"The more so," he continues, "if I am able to prevent Maximo from entering the province of Matanzas." This would be a difficult feat for Gomez, says General Campos, and not likely to be accomplished.

"At present," General Campos telegraphs, "Gomez is at the shores of the river Jatibacoa, and is rather deceived as to his chiefs in Santa Clara province, who have not proved equal to his hopes."

With regard to Rego, General Campos dispatch says that he has no doubt Rego requested permission to surrender. Containing the dispatch says:

"If the plan miscarried, as I am informed by the chief of that zone, it has been due to the fact that it became public, but there still exists nine out of 10 chances that it will yet be an accomplished fact."

Insurgents Surprised Them.

HAVANA, Dec. 3.—The Colon battalion of troops found itself for a while in a very hazardous position of Los Bayas, in the Manzanillo district, owing to a surprise by the insurgents. The battalion, however, soon recovered itself, and by energetic action dislodged the insurgents from their positions and put them to flight. The latter lost 60 dead and wounded, while the loss to the troops was 14.

Moneypenny Is Famous.

PARIS, Dec. 3.—M. Camille Pelletan, representing one of the divisions of Aix in the chamber of deputies, has announced his decision to raise a debate in the chamber shortly on the subject of the virtual monopoly of the petroleum trade in the hands of a few people.

ENRAGED GENERAL ADAMS WHOSE SON WAS ENTHRALLED BY MACAO.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Representative Linton of Michigan has the distinction of having introduced the first bill in the house of the Fifth-fourth congress. It is the interest of the railway postal clerks.

ATROCIOUS CRIME.

A Farm Hand Brutally Assassinated.

Hudson, N. Y., Dec. 3.—Charles McDarby, 25, a farmhand, is under arrest here for a terrible crime committed at Gallatinville, Columbia county, on Thanksgiving day. He met Mrs. Caroline Proper, 50, while she was on the highway journeying to the house of her daughter. Seizing her, McDarby lifted her up and threw her over a fence,

MOST PECULIAR CASE

A DEATH IN BIG ISLAND TOWNSHIP PUZZLES THE PHYSICIANS.

Herman, the Eleven-Year Old Son of Mr. and Mrs. John Herr Passed Away This Morning—A Post Mortem Examination Being Held.

Herman, the eleven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Herr, residing five miles west of this city died this morning at 6 o'clock.

The case is so peculiar that this afternoon a post mortem examination is being held by Dr. Hamilton, assisted by Drs. Crane, Thomas and Ulmer to determine what caused the lad's death.

Some ten days ago while the boy and a man named Frank Drisler were about the stable one of the horses kicked Drisler, who fell over the boy.

The boy did not appear to be injured in any way and went to school the next day. In fact he attended school until one week ago Monday.

Coming home from school that day he got caught in a rain and was thoroughly soaked and that night he was taken sick and suffered a severe chill and from that time up to the time of his death was in great agony.

The physicians were unable to tell what caused death, whether it resulted from the chill, the accident or from both. The fact that he had been an unusually strong and healthy boy and never sick a day in his life would lead to the belief that death was not the result of the accident, but the fact that the little fellow suffered terrible pains in his head and bowels and the further fact that blood poisoning set in would lead to that belief.

The case was so peculiar that Dr. Hamilton asked the parents to allow a post mortem to be made and the physicians mentioned are at the Herr home this afternoon for that purpose.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

COMMON PLEAS COURT

The case of the Farmers and Mechanics Bank company against Bell & Hathaway came to a sudden halt in the court of common pleas Monday.

When the attorney for Bell & Hathaway sought to read a deposition taken, as they supposed, for use in this case, they discovered that a mistake had been made and that the deposition had been taken for use in another case of the same title as the present.

Messrs. McNeal & Wolford, as attorneys for the bank, would not consent to its use in the present case and so the jury was excused until tomorrow morning by which time the defense can secure the deposition, without which the attorneys of the defendant do not wish to proceed.

The Marion Building Savings and Loan company, with its attorneys, J. F. McNeal & Sons, this morning filed an answer and cross-petition in the case of Mary E. Uncapher against Charles E. Gregg and others a mortgage given by Thomas G. Hudson, a former owner of the premises, lots 769, 770 and 771 in Marion, to this company, on which there was due Nov. 20, 1885, the sum of $210,000.

A Waldo Party.
WALDO, Dec. 3.—The birthday party given last night in celebration of the thirteenth birthday anniversary of Miss Rose Coleman was really a notable occasion. Nearly a hundred children and adults were guests at the Coleman home and participated in the pleasures of the occasion. There were a number of presents given to the young lady.

The Medical Society.

The regular monthly meeting of the Marion County Medical society will be held at the court house this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Dr. J. McCloud will read a paper and a large attendance is desired, as the Nuscrot bill, a bill regulating the practice of medicine in this state, will be considered.

A. M. CRANE, Secy.

D. O. WEEKS, Pres.Waldo Kenton.

It has been arranged that Yank Kenny, whoever he is, and Dan Bayliss are to be matched for a prize fight to take place at Kenton on Christmas night. It is given out that Kenton's major will not interfere—a sorry thing to be told of any town. Bayliss is well known to the followers of the short haired crowd in Marion.

The American Protective Tariff League is a national organization advocating "Protection to American Labor and Industry" as explained by its constitution, as follows:

"The object of this League shall be to protect American labor by a tariff on imports, which shall adequately secure American industrial products against the competition of foreign labor."

There are no personal or private profits in connection with the organization and it is sustained by memberships, contributions and the distribution of its publications.

FIRST. Correspondence is solicited regarding "Membership" and "Official Correspondents."

SECOND. We need and welcome contributions, whether small or large, to our cause.

THIRD. We publish a large line of documents covering all phases of the Tariff question, completed with maps and any additional facts of value.

GREAT RELAY RIDE.

Message to Be Taken From Washington to New York.

The military cyclists have just completed arrangements for their great relay ride between Washington and New York, the preparations of which have been going on for the last four months. After numerous delays it has at last been decided to begin the race at noon on Dec. 1, which will be Sunday. Nothing in the way of natural elements will stop the cyclists unless there is snow on the ground, which will be too deep for the bicyclists to ride through on their machines. Barring this, the start will be made, rain or shine, though good weather is earnestly hoped for on the occasion, as it will materially tend toward having a quick ride.

According to the schedule of the ride prepared by Captain S. H. Wiggin and Lieutenant Frank Lishley, who have been in charge of the ride, the distance is 219½ miles, and 23 hours is allowed in which to cover it. This is the maximum of time and allows plenty of margin for improvement. In some cases the men will probably take up all of the time allotted to them for their relay, but in other cases, where the roads are good, the ride will probably be made much faster than the scheduled time. Only 20 men in the company will be used in the ride, and they will be stationed at the beginning of each relay. In all there will be ten relays between the two points, the shortest of which will be 16½ miles, while the longest will be 35 miles.—Washington Star

ALL BORN WITH SCALES.

Miss Sheets, the Last of Her Family, Near the End of Her Life.

Miss Lizzie Sheets, 50 years of age, who is dying near Rochester, Ind., has been a heroin for the past 40 years, owing to a deformity at birth, which was characteristic of other children born to her parents.

There were three girls and one boy, and at birth each showed a covering of distinctly marked scales over all parts of the body, the face, neck and hands of each being more thickly covered than other parts of the body.

The scales were comparatively soft, and of a delicate flesh color. As the children grew up the scales of the exposed parts of the body became hard and firm and of a darker hue.

Miss Lizzie is the last member of the family. When 10 years of age, she became so sensitive concerning her condition that she refused to be seen by any one, and has lived a secluded life ever since. She did nearly all the work upon the farm herself. When she hired a man, her communications with him were always from a room where she could not be seen.—New York World.

Mrs. Stanton on the Horse Show.
Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton was interviewed recently and asked to give her opinion as to the horse show recently held in New York. This is what she said:

"I regard the horse show as a demoralizing exhibition. That society women will deliberately gown themselves for the purpose of being gazed at by the public seems incredible, and yet the horse show proves that they do. Not only is their attitude in regard to their own personality and privacy an incredible one, but the horse show which they attend is in itself demoralizing. I regard it as on a level with a cock fight or a dog fight. The climax of shows seems to be reached. First and lowest we have the cock fight, then the dog fight, then this horse show, and finally the exhibition of women, with which the horse show has become merged. But not until we can get society women to respect themselves will the horse shows cease."

Using Coins For Advertising.

Kalamazoo and Muskegon merchants are using silver dollars for advertising purposes. They are not giving away the dollars, but are using them as billboards. They paste labels on the big silver cart wheel—reading, "Take me back to Blank's store and get one dollar and five cents' worth of groceries for me." Citizens are complaining that the latals come in and stick to their pockets and that the gum makes the money unpleasant to handle. The United States district attorney was appealed to, but he says it is not against the law to so use coins, but he thought, from experience and from all he heard, that public opinion would endorse a law making such a use of the national currency a crime—New York Sun

The Housesmiths' Strike.

The strike of the "housesmiths" in New York calls attention in forcible way to another industrial revolution that has taken place so quietly as to be almost unnoticed. It is so recent that probably a nine-tenths majority of the people of the country do not know what a "housesmith" is. They will hear a good deal of him in the future, however. On the new new structure which is the business building of the future he is more important than the carpenter. He and his work have been created by the science and invention which are everywhere multiplying opportunities for employment and at the same time making them more profitable.—New York World.

This Is an Age of Romance.

Can the atmosphere of any age of the world compare with the purposes of the imaginative writer, with the atmosphere of our own time? Depending on it, the nineteenth century is the most romantic period in the history of the world. It is the romance of our age and not its political administration that is the most amazing feature. We are not far enough away from it to realize that romance. But by and by the great imaginative writer will take hold of this century of ours and find material for the most thrilling, startling and astounding development of the human story that literature has yet known.—From Hall Caine's Lecture on "Novels."

THE PRIZE WINNERS.

SOME NEW MEN IN THE FIFTY-FOURTH CONGRESS

There Are a Cowboy, Poet, an Artist, a Salvation Officer, as Well as Carpenters and Journalists and Lawyers and Bankers Galore.

Special arrangement.

WASHINGTON, D. C., 2.—In the Fifty-fourth congress at a cowboy, poet, an artist and a Salvation Army officer. There are carpenters, farmers, merchants and journalists, but by far the largest proportion are lawyers, and among these are a surprisingly large number of corporation attorneys. Lawyers and bankers are decidedly in the lead, and this in connection with the demand for legislation about the currency, is one of many reasons why I am confident the session will be a very long one.

The journalist naturally turns first to those of his own profession, and if any among them have risen high through many years' good service he expects most of them. But when a former occupant of this gallery comes back the buzz around him like the stay at home members of a family around a member who has gone west and come back rich, and the man who fills the bill in all these respects is Hon. William E. Barrett of the Seventh Massachusetts district. He is only 38 years old, yet he was for two years editorial writer on the St. Albans (Vt.) Daily Messenger, then reporter for the Boston Advertiser and long its Washington correspondent, then managing editor of the Advertiser and The Record and finally business manager and chief proprietor of both. Besides all these he is a graduate of Dartmouth college, has served six terms in the Massachusetts legislature, in five of which he was speaker, and succeeds the scholarly but somewhat eccentric Dr. William Everett in this house.

The veteran of the New England delegation is Hon. Nehemiah D. Sperry of New Haven, who was postmaster of that city for over a quarter of a century, has been secretary of state of Connecticut and is 85 years old. Our boys from that section say that they will put Mr. Sperry against any other man in the country for unmixed Puritan blood, for he was old enough to teach school, then studied law, was elected to the Indiana legislature as soon as old enough, and here he is. Hon. C. A. Fullaway of the First New Hampshire is the Salvation Army captain, and he looks it. Hon. Miles Crowley of the Texas Texas is the cowboy, but he was born in Boston, has been bus stevedore and foreman and a member of the house of representatives of Texas, and now succeeds Buck Kilgore, who kicked in the door of the house during the fifty-second congress.

Hon. H. H. Atwood, Tenth Massachusetts, is artist and architect and has had a great deal of legislative experience for a man but 32 years old. Hon. T. M. Hurley of Brooklyn is an Irishman, carpenter and building contractor and absolutely new in legislature. Hon. W. M. Treloar of the Ninth Missouri is a teacher of music and was nominated against Champ Clark as a mere matter of turn, but here he is. Hon. Frank S. Black, Nineteenth New York, began life as a farmhand, changed his profession a few times and is a successful lawyer, and finally Hon. Rowland Blennerhassett Mullany is charged with being a poor. He has also been minister to Ecuador for a short time. There are several other members about whom there is a deal of popular curiosity, and about none more than Colonel and Hon. George D. McClellan. As the son of the great general he is of interest to all Americans, and, in addition, he is the youngest man in this congress, having just reached 30, and is not only a successful business man, but represented to be particularly adroit in political management.

A WONDERFUL BUILDING.

Largest Office Structure In the World Now Being Erected in Buffalo.

Special Correspondence.

BUFFALO, Dec. 2.—Some idea of the strides which the art of building has taken in the past few years is to be obtained from the prospectus, just issued, of what is claimed to be the largest office building in the world. This magnificent structure is known as Elliott Square and is in the heart of the business center of Buffalo. It fronts on four streets—Main, Washington, Swan and South Division. The ground measurement is 210 by 260 feet, and it is now ten stories high, or 144 feet. The steel framework and foundations are of such substantial character that ten stories more may be added, making a 20 story

THIS GIRL A HEROINE

SAVED A BABY AND HER AGED MOTHER FROM A FIERY DEATH

First Rang the Fire Alarm—Made Two Trips of Rescue—When Danger Was Past, Became Hysterical and Fainted.

Tillie Stern, a tall, dark-haired girl of 19 years, saved two lives the other day at her home, in a tenement in East Eighty-fifth street, New York. One was a life almost spent—that of her mother who is past 60 and helpless from inflammatory rheumatism, the other that of a golden-haired child just learning to talk.—Hortense Speakmaster, 18 months old, and the pride and joy of the big tenant.

Tillie and her widowed mother live on the second floor, and on the top floor, three flights further up, live Leontine Speakmaster, his wife and the baby, Hortense. The mother had just dressed the child in its pretty gown of white muslin at 10 a. m., when Tillie knocked at the door. She intended just a morning call to inquire about the little one, and, incidentally, to borrow a kitchen utensil. Hortense showed her new gown, and when the girl started down stairs tried to go with her.

"Please, mamma, please," she pleaded, and the mother nodded consent. Tillie took the little one in her arms, and old Mrs. Stern showed her the pictures in the morning paper. Tillie left her at this pleasing entertainment when she started for the grocery hard by.

She smelled smoke when she reached the foot of the stairs. The hall was filled with it, but she thought it came from some careless neighbor's stove and went on to the store. When she came back, she saw the smoke coming in volumes from the speaking tubes. The halls were stifling, and she screamed for the janitor, Charles Roeder. He came, but stood paralyzed with fear, and Tillie thrust him aside impatiently.

"Arouse the people! Tell them the house is on fire!" were her orders.

She ran to First avenue and fell, half fainting, against the post containing the alarm box. She turned the handle and then started back to the burning house, her mind filled with anxious thoughts. Was her old mother safe? Had they saved little Hortense?

The street before the house was crowded with people when she got there. Excited tenants ran to and fro, and among them she spied Mrs. Speakmaster.

"Where is Hortense? Is she safe?"

"She is up stairs with mother," answered the girl, her pale face becoming even more blanched.

Instead of answering, the mother fell in a dead faint.

The smoke was now pouring in dense clouds from the open hallway. Tillie glanced at the mother's form being dragged to a place of safety and with her lips tightly compressed rushed into the hall and to the stairs.

They saw her throw her gingham apron over her head as she dashed up and stood breathless until, a minute later, she came out through the smoke, bearing the golden-haired baby in her arms. She handed the little one to a neighbor and rushed back.

"My mother! She must be saved!" they heard her say.

The rooms were black with smoke. "Mother! Where are you? Come quick!" she called. The old mother staggered forward and leaned on the girl's arm. To return through the hall was impossible, and Mrs. Stern sat. They lifted her out of the window into parlor air and over the fire escape to safety.

One of the women was touched by the appeal. She forgot her fear and followed Tillie back over the fire escape and into the room where Mrs. Stern sat. They lifted her out of the window into parlor air and over the fire escape to safety.

After she had done all this the relapse came, and Tillie became hysterical and staggered into a chair weak and limp. She recovered after the firemen had arrived and put out the fire, and the tenants were restored to their water-soaked rooms.—New York World.

Ingersoll on Bloomers.

In the time to come it is naturally to be expected that Ingersoll's oratorical speech will be quoted as an example of matchless oratory. True, the colonel has not made the speech as yet; but, knowing him as we do and realizing the magnificent opportunity that the subject gives him to add to his reputation as an orator, we are justified in expecting something that will go thundering down the ages.

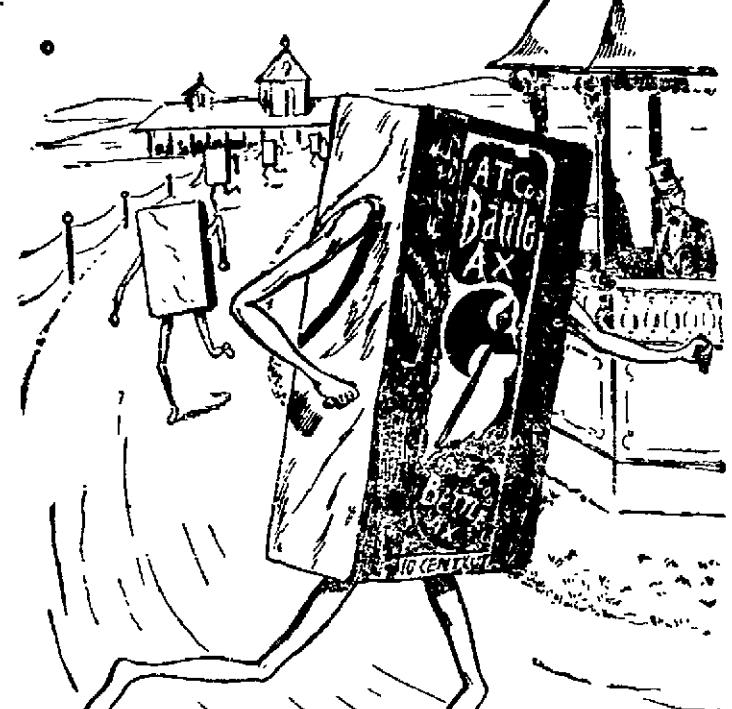

The proprietor of an eating house in New York asserts that he has retained Colonel Ingersoll to prosecute the city for arresting him because he put his waitresses in bloomers, and thus made them so attractive that crowds congregated on the sidewalk to look at them through the windows.—Chicago Post.

Groveside Side Line.

John D. Miller, doing business in Birmingham, Ala., under the firm name of Miller & Co., undertakers, has added a unique if somewhat grotesque side line to his emporium trade. It is the "mummification" of human bodies. The first experiment was made by Mr. Miller about four years ago. Since that time he has succeeded with every one of the four bodies he has subjected to the treatment, and the "mummies" are exhibited as samples of the embalming art.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Convict Question In Spain.

The recent mutiny on a Spanish ship carrying volunteers to fight the Cubans was caused by the fact that 170 convicts were on board charged with the same mission. Probably the Cubans would be soon dealt with convicts as with the plundering officials who are making use of them.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Probable Historic Event
should the Christian powers enter Alaska, their entry would be a incident unsurpassed in interest, any other than ever occurred. It is nearly 450 years since the Turks took by storm, and they have held it all the vicissitudes of war and of peace. It is possible that, after the centuries, Constantine XIII will have a Christian successor and that much of St. Sophia may be restored to Christendom. But the changes that follow the entry of the Christians into the great city which in the ages has been known asantium, Constantinople and Istanbul, are unimaginable.—New York

We Want to Smash Our Records.—English railroads have been stirred up by recent feats of the New York Central and Lake Shore roads. They are preparing to beat all records next. The Midland railway, which took out in the race to the north last year, will be building an engine at Derby that will be able to run from London to Scotland and thence to Carlisle without stopping. The Great Northern is making its tenders so as to make an all day run to York, and the London and Northumbrian is substituting bogies for compound engines. They all declare they will reach Manchester in three and a half or a quarter of a hour instead of four and a half hours.—York Sun.

ALASKA-CANADA LINE

EXPLANATION OF THE TREATY SO MUCH DISCUSSED NOWADAYS.

Some Expect Trouble Between the Two Governments Over This Matter, but Very Likely It Will All Be Fixed Up by the State Department.

If you are a newspaper reader, which, of course, you are, else you would not be reading this, you have been puzzled over and over again by the almost daily allusions to the dispute about the boundary between Alaska and Canada, and it is quite possible that you have formed an opinion as to the right and wrong of the matter, perhaps without really knowing much about it. It is the opinion of the present writer that—But this article is to be informing merely and not infirmatory and will deal with facts and not preferences.

In a way the differences between the queen's colonists and Uncle Sam's men are a legacy from the Russians, since the treaty between Russia and the British defining the eastern boundary of Russia America was accepted by the United States when Alaska was purchased from the Russians in 1867. No trouble arose until a few years ago, when parties of American and Canadian engineers were sent to locate the line. The British interpretation of the treaty differs from

HAWAIIAN MINISTER HATCH.

Lawyer and Diplomat and One of the Original Committee of Safety.

Francis M. Hatch, who has served for some time as Hawaiian minister of foreign affairs, will soon reach Washington to assume his duties as minister to the United States. W. R. Castle, the young republic's present representative at Washington, was only appointed to serve until Hatch arrives, and the latter is thus the successor of Lorin A. Thurston, who was declared persona non grata by the late Secretary Gresham.

Mr. Hatch is a native of New Hampshire and is about 38 years of age. He was graduated from Bowdoin college with high honors and then took up the study of law. He was an apt pupil of Blackstone and while yet young to the profession went to Honolulu and entered the office of his uncle, Judge Harris, who was then chief justice of Hawaii under King Kalakaua. After Judge Harris' death King Kalakaua repeatedly urged Hatch to accept office under the royal government, but he refused. He took no part in public affairs, was

WINTER FASHIONS.

Princess Gowns, Sloping Shoulders and Scatter Skirts—Fashionable Trimmings.

Tight fitting bodices of goods like the skirt are in vogue again, and Louis Quinzon's bodices in bright colors are employed for the trimming.

The princess gown is worn again, as it is worn every year, by a few women. It is an exclusive style and one that does not lend itself well to ordinary use, for which the separate skirt and bodice are more convenient. The princess style makes a stout figure look slender and always, when successfully made, has an elegant look, because it is so difficult to fit properly. The variety most seen has a princess back, while the front is finished like a bodice.

English women are wearing shorter skirts than other Americans or French women. Some of the English skirts are cut decidedly off the ground at the back for the street, which is certainly a rational fashion for women to follow who must go out in all weathers.

Stitching, strapping and buttons reign on walking costumes. In some cases every seam of the skirt is stitched or strapped, the tablier is adorned with buttons on one or both sides, and the bodice is trimmed with groups of smaller buttons, while the sleeve, composed of many tapering bands, is strapped or stitched like the skirts and fastened with buttons at the wrists.

The illustration shows two costumes for girls. The first, for a girl of 14 or 16 years, is of winter serge of a willow green shade. The flaring skirt is edged with black astrakhan. The blouse is of ruby velvet with a serge yoke. A wide plait framed by buttons decorates the front of the blouse, while a wide velvet collar with an applique pattern of white cloth covers the shoulders. The sleeve sleeves have deep cuffs of velvet similarly adorned. The second costume, for a girl of 10 years, is of blue velvet. The skirt is bordered with marten, while an immense collar of sude cloth, embroidered and edged with fur, covers the shoulders. The skirt buttons on the left side. JUDIE CHOLLET.

BODICES AND TRIMMINGS.

Classical Style of Marie Antoinette Revived in Fabrics and Makeup.

Bolero and Bonnet effects for bodices are still in favor and are varied ad infinitum, being seen on all sorts and conditions of gowns.

This is to be a Marie Antoinette winter.

The lovely velvets and rich flowered silks are admirably adapted to such a revival, and many new models of evening gowns are constructed on that line. Pointed and Governor Altgeld says he will not be a candidate for governor, as he must go into some business where he can make money. It does not necessarily follow that he will seek to be a Chicago alderman. There are other ways in Chicago of making money—Mansfield Chronicle.

True, but there is a reasonable doubt if there is anything in Chicago that makes money so easily as being an approachable alderman.

Benjamin Butterworth, in defining the difference between a statesman and a politician says that a politician follows "popular drift," while a statesman has aggressive righteousness. This is good but leaves so much up said. Mr. Butterworth might have truthfully said that a statesman is very often out of a job because he is not in touch with the people. But Ben Butterworth is a brilliant man, nevertheless.

Methodists especially will take little interest in the recent discovery of unprinted poems of Charles Wesley in which he denounces the war for American independence. Mr. Wesley was doubtless right from his point of view, but his hymns will be sung with less spirit by those who are now convinced that he was opposed to American liberty. Perhaps this ought not to be, and exceptionally loyalty to Wesley will modify the feeling somewhat, but Wesley's fame and songs might have remained better if they had not been published.

Down in Maryland where the Republicans have gotten control of the state for the first time in history there is another exemplification of the adage that history repeats itself. In the fight for the senate a Bonaparte is opposed by a Wellington. However, the indications favor anything but a Waterloo. Was not Maryland once before linked to the name and fame of Bonaparte by the marriage of a Baltimore belle to a brother of the emperor?

The message of the President to Congress is given on another page of this issue, and proves a readable and interesting document, despite its length. There is manifest consciousness on the part of the executive that he is addressing a congress that holds very different views from his own, but he nevertheless has his say in the frank language so characteristic of Cleveland. In writing of foreign relations which have the attention of more than half the document, the President takes a very conservative stand as a whole. He says England has been given to understand that the United States will stand by the Monroe doctrine, in the matter of disputed territory between British Guiana and Venezuela, but confesses that England has not yet given a favorable answer to the question of arbitration. Hawaii gets a sly punch in the ribs, while the Turkish, French, Russian, Oriental and seal questions are discreetly handled, so as to command confidence. Cuba gets no sympathy—doubtless rightly, according to international courtesy—and the President urges that every earnest effort has been made to secure obedience to our neutrality laws.

The President affirms his faith in the new tariff law as being along the line of the correct principle, and leaves the inference that class legislation, such as protection, has had its full share in creating the threatened financial condition. Free silver is tramped upon without mercy or reserve, and the bond issue to preserve the gold reserve is very earnestly defended. Further than to remedy the national bank laws and facilitate the creation of new banks, the message is not clear in giving a remedy for the financial situation that is described as being most deplorable. Perhaps it is not meant to be clear. The message seeks to throw upon Congress the burden of relieving the situation for the executive's hearty co-operation is pledged in advance to aid in any way in bringing about an improved situation. Congress will doubtless accept the responsibility and it is a reasonable surmise that a restoration of the balances of trade in our favor, and increased revenues will be among the first things sought.

A communication was read from H. Palmer, president of the city council of Akron, Ohio, bringing before the council the matter of abandoning spring elections and asking that the legislature be influenced to pass such a law. The alleged beauties of such a change were set forth briefly in the communication, and it was stated how nice it would be to have new councils take hold of business in November having a whole winter season in which to take up public improvements. The proposed change got the cold shoulder from the local legislators, their sentiment being embodied in a motion to the effect that they were not in accord with such a change.

Jacob Weber and others petitioned for an electric light to be placed at the corner of State and Mill streets, as a means of safety and convenience. The prayer was referred to the street light and gas committee.

Chairman Dickerson talked finance for his committee, giving a comprehensive statement of the condition of the treasury, stating that it was necessary for council to go slow. He called attention to the amount of funds on hand as shown by the treasurer's report, and spoke of the urgent necessity of issuing bonds to meet the demands that would be made upon the city as a result of improvements already made.

While claim ordinance No. 13 was being read and passed the solicitor busied himself preparing ordinances for the issue of bonds as follows:

For the improvement of Church street from Prairie to Elm street, in the sum of $2500; for the improvement of State street from Fairground street to Delaware avenue, in the sum of $9000; for paying the city's portion of 2 per cent and street and alley intersections in the construction of street improvements, in the sum of $15,000; for the payment of the city's portion for the construction of sewers, in the sum of $6000. The aggregate amount of these bonds is $20,000. They will draw interest at the rate of 5 per cent.

An ordinance was passed assessing a special tax upon land owned by Peter Beethoven and Clark Dix for widening east Center street. The amounts assessed were $170.00 against Mrs. Beethoven and $2.79 against Mr. Dix.

A resolution was adopted which provides for the issue of a certificate of indebtedness to the amount of $5100 in favor of P. Kelly & Co. with interest at 5 per cent. It is one intention of the resolution to borrow this amount to temporarily reimburse the sewer fund.

A resolution authorizing the building committee to dispose of the city real estate located in the southeast part of the city known as the gravel bank that contained no gravel was passed.

A cash sale is authorized after a two weeks' advertisement of the property. Mr. Shutt is a buyer for the property at a figure something like seven hundred dollars less than the city paid for the land several years ago.

Assistant Superintendent Cherry, of the Central Union Telephone company, was present to endeavor to make arrangements with council for strung the telephone wires. He preferred having the wires on the telephone company poles if they occupied them exclusively but did not want part on the electric light poles and part on the telephone company's. There are parts of the city where the telephone people have no poles hence the necessity of using both kinds.

Mr. Cherry was told that in order to avoid any difficulty and danger from having the telephone wires on two sets of poles, the company might put poles in positions in the city not a roadway covered by them.

He declared that he could rather recommend such a course than have the telephone company poles and those of the electric light poles for its fire alarm system.

Council Proceeds To Calm the Anxieties of Those Who Expect a Return on Their Corner Lot Assessments—Business of Regular Session Moved by Night.

The city council met in regular monthly session Monday night. Incident to the assembling of the body in the chamber the gathering took place in the engineer's office where as is usually the case an king of the business to come before the august body could be obtained. The recent supreme court decision affecting corner lot assessments was naturally the topic for informal discussion. Had the jurists who promulgated the law been in hearing of some of the remarks casually dropped there is little doubt some of the conciliatory gentlemen would have been held in contempt. The apparent injustice of the decision was frequently remarked.

When council finally convened for business all members excepting Roberts were present. The clerk immediately proceeded with the reading of the minutes of the previous meetings, following which treasurer Leiters monthly report was read, showing the condition of the city's funds. The balance on hand up to date was shown to be $3,197.26.

A communication was read from J. C. Moorehead, general superintendent of the Erie Ry., stating that his company had made arrangements with the big four company whereby the latter company is to do the work of tunneling under the railroads for the Lehigh street extension.

A cash sale is authorized after a two weeks' advertisement of the property. Mr. Shutt is a buyer for the property at a figure something like seven hundred dollars less than the city paid for the land several years ago.

Assistant Superintendent Cherry, of the Central Union Telephone company, was present to endeavor to make arrangements with council for strung the telephone wires. He preferred having the wires on the telephone company poles if they occupied them exclusively but did not want part on the electric light poles and part on the telephone company's. There are parts of the city where the telephone people have no poles hence the necessity of using both kinds.

Mr. Cherry was told that in order to avoid any difficulty and danger from having the telephone wires on two sets of poles, the company might put poles in positions in the city not a roadway covered by them.

He declared that he could rather recommend such a course than have the telephone company poles and those of the electric light poles for its fire alarm system.

Superior Crossing addressed council on the subject of the supreme court's corner lot decision. He mentioned the necessity of a readjustment

A DELIGHTFUL ENTERTAINMENT

Was the Recital Given by Prof. Becker's Music Class Monday Evening.

Prof. Becker's music class recital given at the Y. M. C. A. parlor Monday evening won a good hearing, the audience representing many of the most prominent musical and literary people of Marion.

The music as rendered was not only delightful but a great surprise to many to find that Marion contained such a nucleus of young ladies who could render music suitable for all and especially to those who could appreciate the program made by these young souls that had been delicately attuned to the work prepared for their exhibition.

It is not however, uncommon to find in such recitals the unexpected performance that produces the greatest effect. Haydn's surprise symphony received the name from the sudden introduction of the drum at an unexpected point. The interest of the symphony however, has very little to do with the surprise feature.

While there is a certain crispness in art music, literature, from poignancy and originality it is just as well to remember that the expected need of the common place, especially in music, the ear remembers and expects it. It remembers a theme or a strain and delights to hear it again and the music presented at this recital by these young debutantes was none the less interesting because it was familiar.

Mozart's sonatas are familiar to most people but they are none the less beautiful if well rendered, and the C major one played by Miss Lester Boyd was charmingly well done. The Polo rondo for violin by Hans Witt given by Miss Annie Herman, surprised many to find that a young miss of her tender age could produce such a charming effect with her chosen instrument. Miss Maud Thompson gave a fine rendering of a sonata op. 30 by Clementi. And none the less agreeable was the Love Song and Old English Dance, for men and women, presented by Ben Blake with his sister as accompanist.

Miss Leslie Gregory had two numbers for piano, a sonata by Clementi and "Scene Militaire," by Kiedl, both of which were executed with much taste and skill. A second violin solo by Miss Annie Herman, one of Milton Wellings beautiful compositions, "At the Ferry" was most delightful with the piano accompaniment by Prof. Becker.

Miss Mabel Anthony came next and last on the program with piano solos by Beethoven and Gade, the first a Rondo op. 51, one of Beethoven's charming works, and it was surprisingly well rendered, as was also the Nocturne by Grade. Miss Mabel has developed a good technic and is making remarkable progress in her solo playing.

Prof. Becker is to be congratulated for having shown the result of his thorough teaching in such works as presented by his music class Monday evening.

HELD BACK A PART

Council Does Not Pay All of Final Tax on Prospect Street

The city council held a special session this afternoon which was called for the purpose of issuing certificates of indebtedness in favor of the American Asphalt company in payment for Prospect street paving and H. C. Hallwood on the Delaware avenue paving.

This business was not attended to Monday night for the reason that there were no funds on hand to pay the estimates. The condition was not improved this afternoon, but Mr. Hallwood telephoned up from Columbus that certificates of indebtedness to draw 5 per cent interest, would answer.

Six members of council only were present, Busard and Harsch failing to show up. The Prospect street paving was finished Saturday evening and the estimate of $3,851.01 on that street was fixed. A kick was at once raised because the payment in full would look like an acceptance of the street in the face of the admitted fact that cracks were showing up on the street in several places. To overcome this objection a deduction was made from the final estimate of $3,519.41 and the certificate issued for $2500.

The estimate for Delaware avenue which was the fourth one amounted to $2,074.07. This was allowed in full and the certificate issued accordingly. Shutt voted against this, however.

This work was done by resolution and council adjourned.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

The Tuesday club met this afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. building.

Marshal Blain was confined to his home by sickness today. Officer John Mansell was attending to his duties.

Quite a number from this city will attend the Melba concert at Columbus and not a few have already secured their seats.

Dr. A. M. Crane has removed his office from rooms in the McNeal & Wolford block to the front suite of rooms in the Masonic block, over L. Denison & Co's.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Workman, of west Center street, are the fond and happy parents of a bouncing boy baby. The new pop dealer arrived Sabbath afternoon.

The remains of Mrs Anna Beard, who died at her home on Reed avenue at 7 o'clock Monday morning, were taken to Lancaster, Ind., this morning over the Big Four.

The Trilby club was pleasantly entertained last evening at the home of Conductor Alcif, of south State street. Pedro was the predominating game, and the refreshments were very dainty.

Architect Griesser, of Chicago, finished going over the new brewery plant today, and found that the work was thorough and all that could be desired. As everything was as it should be the building was accepted by him.

Three mortgages of record in this county, one for $3,000,000, one for $1,000,000 and one for $10,000,000, were released Saturday by the Metropolitan Trust company of New York City. The mortgages were on the railroad property of the Short Line Railway company.

Assistant Superintendent Cherry, of the Central Union Telephone company, returned to Columbus today after a short stay in this city. Mr. Cherry does not relish the idea of putting the lines of the electric fire alarm system on the telephone poles and was in the city last night and today in regard to that matter.

Members of the city school board, Wolford, Schaffner and J. H. Thomas waited patiently at the Central school building Monday night for about an hour in the hope that another member might come in and a quorum be present. It was a vain hope, however, and about 8:30 o'clock the lights were turned out and the three members present came away.

It has been reported to Constable Huggins that a number of small boys about the city have been loaded down recently with little toy dogs, tin soldiers, purple monkeys climbing upon yellow sticks, etc., and the presumption is that they were obtained by the shoplifting proclivities of the youngsters. The constable was asked to give the matter a little incidental attention.

Big Four Agent Bowen mourns the departure of two strangers for West Point, Ind., this morning. The two strangers approached the ticket window and asked for tickets for that point. They were produced and the strangers paid the price asked and it was not until the train pulled out that Agent Bowen discovered that he had sold the two tickets just $20 too low.

STEAM HEAT

Now used in the Car House of the Electric Railway Company.

The Marion Electric Street Railway company today finished the job of putting a steam heating plant in the car house.

The steam heaters are not only designed to heat the car house at all times but also to thaw the ice off the trucks of the cars.

A line of radiators has been put in on either side of the pit and as soon as the car comes in the heat from the pit will thaw off the snow and ice and make them perfectly dry.

By this means the trucks may be easily cleaned and it also makes it as easy to make repairs in the winter as in the summer season. Not only that, but it also keeps the iron work from rusting and benefits it in every way.

Finely lighted.

The Marion Electric Light and Power company today completed lighting the plant of the Marion Manufacturing company. One hundred and seventy-five incandescent lights were put in all told and the plant is now thoroughly lighted in every department. In the moulting room the lights, thirty in number, are arranged on trolleys so that they can be moved about where most needed.

BROTHER GARDNER NAMES SOME THINGS THAT DON'T LOOK RIGHT.

But After All There Are Reasons Why They Like—The Club Proceeds to Business and Some Important Results Are Announced.

"Par-an'-shul things dat doan' look exactly right to me," said Brother Gardner, as he rubbed his bald head with his hand and opened the meeting with the other.

"It doan' look exactly right to see one man with $10,000,000 an' another with only 10 cents [applause by Samuel Shin], but yir if I was de $10,000,000 man I wouldn't keer whether it looked right or not. [Sudden end to the applause.]

"It doan' look exactly right for one man to own a great foundry, while another man unobliged to work for him for $2 a day ['Hear, hear,' from Judge Cadaver], but if I was de $2 a day man I wouldn't frow myself out of a job to spite the owner or to please a demagogue. [The judge subsides.]

"It doan' look exactly right to see one man hold offis all de time, while another man has to shove a jackplane for a hub [great rustle in Pickle Smith's corner], but he who shoves da jackplane has de reas-ack of de community an' keeps out jail. [Rustle dies away.]

"It doan' look exactly right to see ty lawyers rush to defend a criminal who has stolen money in his pockets, while an offender who am intoneyless am left to dig his way free a ten foot wall wid an ole knife blade [grins at a dozen faces], but if I was a lawyer I should earn my money any oder way except by sawn wood. De public doan' look for any partickler display of conscience on de part of lawyers, an' darefure suffer no disapp'intments. [Grins no longer observable.]

"It doan' look exactly right for one man to have a big brick house an' another man a rough bo'd shanty, but 'long bout same time da chunkle ob de fact dat he hain't rich.

"It doan' look exactly right to see one man go pushin' an' swellin' an' crowdin' in everybody else off de sidewalk to let de public know dat he am a king bee, but such men hove to carry de responsibility of been in debt to de tailor an' of dodgin' de grocer, an' of subscribin' $25 to build a church without a hope of being able to pay 10 cents on de dollar.

"In fact, my friends, dat am heaps an heaps o' things dat doan' look exactly right to us at first glance, but when yo' come to figger it up an divide an' subtract we've all got a heap to be thankful fur to encourage us to git up arly in de mornin'. A man kin brace his legs an' lay back like a mule an kick away at de hull world an' hate everybody an' be hated in return, or he kin pick up sartin crumbz of consolation, crowd inter a seat an' da bache round of du wagon, an' take a heap of comfort, known dat somebody is wuss off dan himself. Let us accumulate to bizness."

THE SHERIFF'S OFFICE

Moving Day Will Occur the Sixth of Next Month.

Of the officers elected in November the sheriff is the first to move in and as a natural consequence Sheriff Rice and his deputy, Charley Gompf, will be the first to move out. The change in this office will occur January 6th, next, when Sheriff Shaw will assume charge.

Mr. Rice declares that he has not fully determined as to what business he will embark in after the expiration of his term, but it is not improbable that he will gravitate to the farm. It would not be unnatural in Mr. Rice to desire to take charge of the many acres of productive land in the vicinity of Caledonia, now under the supervision of his father. It is a fact admitted that county official life is not full of roses from beginning to end, and while the retiring sheriff has extracted much satisfaction and enjoyment out of the office and made many friends, it would not be impossible for him to take particular delight in looking after his valuable farm interests, and along the Orlantangy where he could hear the crops grow.

Mr. Rice has been identified with the sheriff's office for twelve years, being deputy under the two terms each of Sheriffs Beckley and Kelly and being twice elected himself.

Deputy Gompf has made no definite arrangements for the future.

MONDAY NIGHT

The Marion Hedge Fence Co. Held an Enthusiastic Meeting.

The Marion Hedge and Wire Fence company held a most enthusiastic meeting at its office last night.

Among other things four new men were hired to work for the company, all of them experienced fence men, and it was determined to work the outside territory of the company, consisting of the four counties of Wyandot, Crawford, Richland and Ashland, for all it is worth.

The company is now in a flourishing condition and has a fine surplus in the treasury, although quite recently an eight per cent dividend was voted and paid.

All the stock outside the county has been purchased by residents of the county, and the company is now a purely Marion enterprise, owned and controlled by Marion capital.

In the make-up of the company some of the best business men in the city may be found, and it is reasonable to assume that the future of the new company will be a bright one.

The company has already sold and placed twenty miles of fence in this county, and it expects by liberal advertising in the home papers to put out much more.

COMES UP TOWN.

The Implement Company Secures an Uptown Office in the Masonic Block.

The Implement Manufacturing company is leaving nothing undone to please its retail city trade. The latest move is an uptown sales office, which Manager Martin has secured in the Masonic block, the former quarters of the Western Union Telegraph company. The Greenwood street office of the company will remain as heretofore. The uptown office is wholly an addition, to facilitate the retail lumber and coal trade, and will be looked after by Manager Martin personally. Telephone service has been arranged. The office will be open in the evening to accommodate men who are busy all day and wish to call in person.

PERSONAL.

F. E. Coon is at Bucyrus, today, on business.

H. N. Quigley is at Mt. Gilead today on business.

A. F. McNeal was at Columbus Monday on business.

G. W. Beery, of Upper Sandusky, is the guest of relatives in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Day, of Caledonia, left on N. Y., and O. train 5 for Atlanta, Ga.

Miss Jesse Ross, of Caledonia, is the guest of Squife and Mrs. George McKinley.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Cordell left today for their home in Chicago. Mr. Cordell has been in the city for some time in connection with the construction of the brewery.

Harry True, H. M. Ault, John Landon, George H. Uhler and Fenton Fish were at Mansfield this afternoon inspecting church windows with a view to buying for the Presbyterian church in this city.

Suffering from Hemorrhages. Monday night Drs. Crane and Ferrell were called to the home of George Falk, south of this city.

About 6 o'clock Monday evening Mr. Falk commenced bleeding at the teeth and shortly afterward severe hemorrhages of the nose occurred and it was not until 3 o'clock this morning that the bleeding could be stopped, at which time Mr. Falk was quite weak from the severe drain upon his blood supply.

Though several slight hemorrhages occurred this morning about 7 o'clock, it is hoped that there is no danger of the case becoming again serious.

Notice to Tally Wag.
